

Girls on the Run Treasure Valley 2019 Annual Report

 #LETSTELLHER

We're Changing the Narrative

Let's Tell Her!

Throughout their lives, girls receive countless messages about how they should act and who they should be.

These explicit and implicit biases from people and the media influence how girls think about themselves and others. It doesn't have to be this way.

At Girls on the Run, we believe every girl is inherently full of power and potential. Along with teaching life skills, our programs empower girls to celebrate what makes them one of a kind, to stand up for themselves and others and to recognize their ability to make an impact on their communities and the world.

Dear Friends & Supporters,

At Girls on the Run, we are changing the narrative about what it means to be a girl. We believe every girl is inherently full of power and potential and our aim is for every girl to believe this about herself as well. We have three marathon goals to fuel this outcome - to be inclusive, relevant and engaging, to have a strong and thriving council network, and to be known and respected.

At the heart of this work is our evidence-based curricula. It is intentionally designed to build important life skills like confidence, strength and resilience as these are traits we all must possess to activate our limitless potential. While our curricula build these vital skills, it is our trained volunteer coaches who bring them to life for the girls.

In 2019, 109,000 volunteers served the organization across the country, making it possible for 209,000 girls to know they can dream big and do big things. In southwest Idaho, 235 passionate volunteers brought the program to life for 910 girls. Effective leaders use their power to empower others and our volunteer coaches beautifully embody this concept. In their coaches' words and actions, girls experience a truth we have always known at Girls on the Run - the power that resides within each of us to have a positive effect on others and the world. The girls experience this themselves by designing and executing a community service project and in 2019, 54 separate Girls on the Run teams brainstormed, planned, and executed service projects that benefitted their communities in the Treasure Valley.

Girls are also learning the power they possess to set and achieve goals, and our spring and fall programs conclude with all girls participating in a Girls on the Run 5K. Each of our 5K events is a vibrant reflection of humanity – people of all ages, all colors, all religions, from all walks of life - coming together in harmony to support one another. In 2019, we also piloted a curriculum modifications guide. Developed in conjunction with the National Center on Health, Physical Activity and Disability, it supports coaches in effectively serving girls with physical, sensory and cognitive disabilities. We want all girls to know that they are welcome and safe at Girls on the Run.

Girls on the Run is a strong national organization because of the collective commitment of people like you across the country. In the Treasure Valley, we have positively impacted the lives of over 10000 girls and changed our community for the better for years and decades to come. Together, we are inspiring others to stand up for themselves, to build healthy relationships and to give back to the community. Together, we are instilling confidence in the girls we serve that will stand the test of time. Together, we are changing the narrative by joyfully celebrating a truth that will exponentially impact the world – that girls are strong, radiant and, indeed, full of power and potential.

Our Mission

We inspire girls to be joyful, healthy and confident using a fun, experience-based curriculum which creatively integrates running.

Our Vision

We envision a world where every girl knows and activates her limitless potential and is free to boldly pursue her dreams.

Our Core Values

- + Recognize our power and responsibility to be intentional in our decision making
- + Embrace our differences and find strength in our connectedness
- + Express joy, optimism and gratitude through our words, thoughts and actions
- + Lead with an open heart and assume positive intent
- + Nurture our physical, emotional and spiritual health
- + Stand up for ourselves and others

Sustained Impact

What makes Girls on the Run different?

Our evidence-based curriculum and formal volunteer training distinctly differentiate Girls on the Run from other youth programs. There is no other national girl-only physical activity-based positive youth development program that formally trains its coaches on how to implement the curriculum as intended and to create positive relationships in a caring and inclusive climate. It is this combination, an intentional curriculum and coach training, that makes the positive outcomes we see in the lives of the girls we serve possible.

Girls on the Run is for Every Girl

Inclusive Curricula

Girls on the Run partnered with the National Center on Health, Physical Activity and Disability (NCHPAD) to develop curricula adaptations and coach training to ensure our programs are accessible for girls with cognitive, sensory and physical disabilities. These modifications will be implemented nationwide in 2020.

Spanish Translations

Girls on the Run and Heart & Sole curricula – along with additional program materials – have been translated into Spanish, making both programs accessible to Spanish-speaking coaches, girls and families.

I'm

changing the narrative

This program has not only united girls of different backgrounds and abilities, but it has taught them how to work as a team. Not only do the girls encourage one another, but they truly respect and accept each girl on the team for who she is.

- Coach Kari

They told me I'm strong for a girl. I told them, 'Strength is one of my superpowers.'
